WASHINGTON, D. C. May 28, 1869.

REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The receipts at the Treasury from customs and Internal Revenue sources have been favorable for the present month so far, and will make the reduction of the debt even greater than already stated. The duties on imports to the 27th inst. amount to about $13,000,000, while those from Internal Revenue are near $17,000,000, and will be heavier by the end of the month. The disbursements for the month are estimated at about $20,000,000, so the decrease will probably reach ten or twelve millions.

SECURITY DEPOSITED.

The Central Pacific Railroad have, in accordance with the decision of President Grant and his Cabinet, deposited with Secretary Boutwell $4,000,000 of their first mortgage bonds as security for the completion and equipment of a first class road, and were thereupon paid the full amount of Government bonds to which they are entitled by law.

The subject of the surety required from the Union Pacific Railroad has not yet been considered by the President, but will be in a few days, when the like security will be given.

MISSISSIPPI ELECTION.

Major Woodford, of Mississippi, had an interview with the President to-day, stating that if the disfranchising clause, test oath and militia clauses be submitted separately, the Constitution will unquestionably be adopted. The President expressed satisfaction with the state of affairs in Mississippi, but no election will be ordered there till after the election in Virginia, and the objectionable features will be submitted separately.

The New Orleans Commercial Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, May 28.—The Convention was called to order at 11 o'clock. The meeting was delayed in consequence of many members having spent the early part of the day in visiting the grain elevator and ice manufactory.

The following resolutions were offered by General Vandever, of Iowa, seconded by J. I. Tucker, of Louisiana, and adopted:

First, That the President of the Convention be requested to telegraph to the Secretary of War the request that the Government dredge boat, the Essaynon, now at work at Pass L'Outre, at the mouth of the Mississippi, which, in the opinion of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce, has already deepened the channel at said pass from eleven to one hundred and seventy-five feet, as per report of Committee to the Convention, be permitted to still remain at work to benefit the commerce of this whole valley, by effectually deepening the channel on the bar at Pass L'Outre and keeping it to this depth, and to convey to the Government the hearty thanks of the whole Valley represented by this Convention for the aid extended to and benefits rendered it by work done so far, and to say they believe the necessities of the commerce of the whole West and South demand the continuance of work by the Essaynon, and that the changes deemed necessary by the engineer in charge be made in her machinery.

Second. That this Convention most heartily appreciates the efforts made by the general government during the past three years for the improvement of the Mississippi river, and that the thanks of this Convention are hereby tendered to the engineers in charge for their earnest efforts to that end.

Third. That the thanks of this Convention be tendered to the Central Committee on River Improvements of the St. Louis Convention, for their earnest and successful efforts in this behalf.

The reports of the Committees have all been made, and the business of the Convention will probably be concluded to-day, and the Convention adjourn sine die.

Terrific Hail Storm at Wheeling.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WHEELING, W. VA., May 28.—About three o'clock this afternoon the most terrific hail and rain storm ever known in this vicinity passed over the city for full twenty minutes. Hail stones as large as eggs, and some even larger than men's fists, fell like rain. The water rushed down Monroe street with irresistible fury, carrying away boxes, barrels and bales with the current. Market and Main streets were flooded to the depth of a foot, and the sewers being obstructed by ice, the water flowed into the cellars of warehouses, doing much damage. Main street from Monroe to Quincy is covered with hail stones to the depth of two feet. All the east and south windows, from the suspension bridge to the creek, are broken, and many awnings completely riddled. The number of panes broken are estimated by thousands. The loss of two hotels alone amounts to $2,000. The vineyards on the island and hills surrounding the city are greatly injured and fruit and shade trees torn up by the roots or completely stripped of foliage. The iron roof of the Baltimore & Ohio aailroad depot is blown off. Many accidents are reported, but no lives lost. The afternoon train on the Hempfield railroad was compelled to return before reaching the outskirts of the city. The belt of the storm did not extend more than a mile above the city, and the lower wards escaped the hail shower entirely.

At this hour, 7:30 P. M., the hail and rain are again falling with great fury. The loss is variously estimated at from $20,000 to $50,000.

PRESBYTERIANS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

The New School General Assembly.

NEW YORK, May 28.—A joint prayer meeting of the two Presbyterian Assemblies was held this morning.

In the New School Assembly, Rev. Dr. Adams offered a preamble and resolution looking to the appointment of a joint committee of the two Assemblies to prepare and publish a reply to the Pope's letter of September 13th, 1868, as to certain statements of the rules why his claims cannot be recognized, and be regarded as an expression of the sentiment of the Presbyterian Church of the United States. Adopted.

A Committee from the Old School Assembly introduced and announced their adoption of the report on Reunion, and congratulated the hearers on the auspicious result of the movement, to which the Moderator replied in a feeling speech.

Rev. Mr. Moore offered a resolution reproving the growing disposition of members of the church to attend the opera and theatre, and participate in social dances at home and abroad. Referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures.

The resolutions adopted by the Old School body, sending to Presbyteries the items of reunion for ratification, were read and adopted.

A Special Committee of five was ordered on the subject of ministers without charges, and churches without regular ministers who were desirous of a stated supply.

The reception of the delegation from the Bohemian Reformed Church was made the special order for to-morrow morning.

An animated discussion took place on systematic means of raising money for missionary work, and the subject finally referred to a Committee.

The Moderator announced the Committee on resolution in respect to the Pope's Proclamation: Rev. Dr. Adams, Professor Caleb Mills and D. W. Ingersoll, of Minn.

Resolution adopted to attend the decoration of the graves of Union dead in Kings county, on Monday next.

The Joint Committee on reunion and the Moderators of each Assembly were instructed to prepare a pastoral letter to Churches on the subject of the ratification of the action of Assemblies on reunion.

There was no afternoon session to-day. The meeting in behalf of missionary work is to be held to-morrow night.

Old School General Assembly.

In the Old School Assembly resolutions were adopted for putting to a vote of the Presbyteries the plan of reunion adopted yesterday, and Rev. D. Musgrave and Robert Carter, Esq., appointed a Committee to notify the New School Assembly of the nearly unanimous adoption of the reunion report.

The Committee on Freedmen presented their fourth annual report. The receipts were $79,169; number of churches seventy-two; communicants, 5,634; Sabbath Schools, sixty-nine; scholars, 4,723; over three thousand pupils have been in attendance at the day schools, besides the Institutes or High Schools, one each in North Carolina, Kansas and South Carolina, to educate teachers and prepare men for the ministry.

Rev. Dr. Adams and Judge Strong were introduced as representatives of the New School Assembly and made able addresses, to which the Moderater fittingly replied.

Some discussion on the Freedmen followed, without particular action, and the Assembly took a recess.

Reformed Presbyterian Synod.

NEWBURG, May 28.—The Committee of the Reformed Presbyterian Synod, in session to-day, recommended that resolutions be passed deploring the fact that as a nation the United States has steadfastly refused any acknowledgment of the authority of God, deploring the astounding growth of political corruption, and affirming that this irreligion of the nation finds expression in the Constitution of the United States. The resolutions also declare that such a Constitution cannot be accepted and approved by any Christian people without sin. They also denounce the holding of the session of Congress on the Sabbath and the continual desecration of that day by the Postoffice Department.

—At Nashville, yesterday, the case of Sinkelspiel vs. Western Union Telegraph Company was argued in the Circuit Court. The plaintiff had received a proposition for the purchase of goods from parties at Franklin, Ky., which was to be accepted by telegraph at or before a specified time. The telegram accepting the trade was deposited in the Nashville telegraph office before the specified hour, but not received at Franklin until after the time. The parties at Franklin declined the trade, whereupon the plaintiff sued the telegraph company for his consequent loss. The Judge charged that the fact of the telegram being deposited in the office by or before the time specified, was a completion of the contract, whether it was forwarded promptly or not, and that plaintiff's recourse was upon the parties at Franklin, and not upon the Telegraph Company.

—The Convention of Colored Men, of Virginia, in session at Richmond, adjourned yesterday, after adopting resolutions requesting General Canby to give colored men representation upon the benches of the Courts, urging Republican voters to vote for the Constitution framed by the late Convention, pledging the Convention to support the Wells ticket, thanking the people of the North for their benevolence in furnishing means for the education of colored children in the South, and hailing the appointment of General Canby with joy. Dr. Harris, the colored candidate for Lieutenant Governor, addressed the body and expressed his suspicion that some of the white Republican voters intended striking his name from the ticket on account of his color.

—The late accident to Hon. George H. Pendleton, who was thrown out of his carriage near his residence at Clifton, Ohio, on Monday last, turns out to be more serious than was anticipated and will confine him to his room for a number of weeks. His ankle was dislocated, besides being sprained, and other injuries inflicted of a very painful nature.

SYNODICAL PROCEEDINGS.

General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church at Cedarville, Ohio.

SEVENTH DAY—MORNING SESSION.

Synod met at 9 o'clock, and was opened with prayer by the Moderator. Spent half an hour in devotional exercises, Rev. Samuel Boyd in the chair. The Rev. H. H. Blair, New York, a minister of the United Presbyterian Church, took part in the devotional exercises.

The report of the Board of Trustees of the Theological Seminary was read. It stated that Mr. Wm. Matthews, New York, had entered suit to recover five thousand dollars subscribed by him to the endowment fund of the Seminary for reasons assigned. Referred to the Committee on the Seminary.

The Committee on the Theological Seminary presented their report. The Superintendent declared the chair occupied by Dr. Wylie vacant in June last, inasmuch as he had suspended relations to Synod. Adopted.

The credentials of Rev. H. H. Blair, New York, delegate from the United Presbyterian Assembly, were read. Mr. Blair was invited to a seat as a consultative member in Synod.

A document purporting to be from the Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions—Dr. T. W. J. Wylie—was presented to Synod. It stated that George H. Stuart had been elected a member of the Board vice James Hogg, who had left the church. The paper was laid on the table.

Moved by Drs. Douglas and Wilson that Synod take a recess for thirty minutes, to allow the Board of Foreign Missions time to prepare a report, and that Rev. H. H. Blair, delegate from the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, be heard immediately after the expiration of the recess.

Resumed business, when Rev. H. H. Blair addressed the Synod. It afforded him great pleasure to be present to convey the cordial salutations of the U. P. Church to the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church. The history of both churches was, in many respects, the same. He congratulated Synod on its past history, and present position. He was glad to hear that peace and prosperity were enjoyed by the Synod. He hoped the negotiations for union between the two bodies would be prosecuted to a successful termination. It afforded him great satisfaction to know that all the proceedings of the present sessions had been characterized by peace and unity.

Mr. Blair read the protocol agreed upon by the Committee composed of representatives from the Old and New School and Presbyterian Churches, which met in Philadelphia a month or two ago. He said it was not all that could be desired, but it indicated progress. The psalms of Scripture were to versified for "use" in the worship of God. He wished the Reformed Presbyterian Church to be in the front rank in the matter of Union. He would be glad to follow if they would only lead the way.

The eloquent address was listened to attentively.

The Moderator, in the name of Synod, most cordially reciprocated the Christians' greetings expressed by the respected delegate of that most respectable body, the U. P. Church. The two churches were twin sisters. They both had a noble history of which they were not ashamed, and should not be. All should hope and pray for Union, for there was strength in union. He believed it was time for the scattered regiments of the psalm-singing churches to unite in one.

Mr. Blair advanced to the Moderator, grasped him by the hand and embraced him.

Peter Gibson, Esq., invited Synod to meet next year in Cincinnati.

Mr. John Holmes extended an invitation to Synod to meet in Philadelphia.

S. B. W. McLeod, M. D., was authorized to invite Synod to meet in Brooklyn.

The roll was called, and it was decided that Synod meet in Cincinnati by a decided vote on the third Wednesday of May, 1870, at half past seven o'clock P. M.

PSALMODY QUESTION.

The following paper was presented to Synod: We, members of Cedarville Congregation and others, believing and recognizing the fact, that there has been and now is an honest difference of opinion with our people on the Psalmody question; and believing further, as we do, that there are those in the Church who have in times past, and who will in times to come, out of love to Christ, their Saviour, and love to his children, brethren of other Christian denominations, have sung, and who will sing with honest hearts, other portions of Scripture than the one hundred and fifty Psalms, matter of praise in the worship of God, We therefore humbly but most earnestly pray your respected and venerable body to take such action in the premises as you in your judgment may think necessary to make it a matter of Christian forbearance with all such persons.

With love to you and all due subjection in the Lord, we, your petitioners, commend you in all your deliberations to the favor of a merciful God.

On motion, the paper was received and the parties presenting it were referred to the minutes of 1866 and 1868.

The report of the Board of Foreign Missions recommended the organization of the Board; that New York be the seat of operations, and that the Treasurer be a resident of that State; that General Synod hereby solicits subscriptions to the Mission, and request they be forwarded there to the Treasurer that may be appointed by Synod.

On motion the location and appointment of a Treasurer were left to the discretion of the Board. The paper as amended was then adopted as a whole.

J. C. McMillan, Esq., was appointed to receive contributions to defray expenses of the Committee on Union.

Minutes of the session were then read throughout, and after devotional services Synod adjourned to meet in Cincinnati, Ohio, on the third Wednesday of May, 1870, at half past seven o'clock, to be opened with a sermon by the Moderator, Rev. M. Harshaw, Rev. N. Woodside his alternate.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Blanche and Ella Chapman, the pleasing actresses, who have for the past week afforded so much enjoyment to the amusement going public, took a joint benefit. The house was filled with a large and fashionable audience, and the entertainment was all that could be desired. At the matinee this afternoon "Alladin" and the "Quiet Family" will be presented, and this evening, which closes the engagement of the Chapman Sistors in this city, "Forty Thieves" and "The Youth who never saw a Woman," will constitute the bill.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—The benefit tendered to Messrs. Havis and Rook, at the Pittsburgh Theatre, last night, was just as it should have been, a decidedly substantial one. The house was filled from pit to dome. The entertainment was an excellent one. The matinee this afternoon and the entertainment to-night will present new and varied attractions to those in search of fun.

Threatened to Scald Him.

Thomas Brown and Deborah Haworth are neighbors, residing in Chartiers township. Deborah keeps a small saloon, which Thomas complained af as being the resort of a set of noisy unruly characters, who trespassed upon his property adjoining and caused him considerable annoyance. Deborah felt displeased at these complaints of Thomas, and according to his allegations, threatened to scald his eyes out and burn his house down. Alderman McMasters issued a warrant for the arrest of Deborah at the instance of Thomas.

More Trespassers.

Yesterday afternoon officer Nixon arrested three more trespassers on the Allegheny Park. They were boys. Not content with walking through the grounds by the regular paths, they were detected tramping over the flower beds and tearing up the plants. They were fined five dollars and costs by the Mayor. As has been heretofore said, we think the fine in a case of this kind should be much heavier.

East Liberty Concert.—We are told that the four pieces of Rossini's "Messe Solennelle," which will be sung at Mr. C. Tetedoux's Concert next Thursday, June 3d, are among the best to be found in the great work of the great Maestro: Domine, solo for tenor; Quoniam, solo for bass; qui tollis, duet for sophrano and contralto; Grasias, trio for contralto, tenor and bass. Interpreted, as they are to be, by splendid voices and highly cultivated talent, they will certainly meet in the appreciative public of East Liberty with something of the enthusiastic success which they are now achieving in all the large cities of Europe.

DECORATION DAY HYMN.

Beneath the summer sky,
How peacefully they lie
    At rest from wars;
Oh! sacred hold the grave
Of each devoted brave
Who poured his blood to save
    The stripes and stars.

Their marches now are o'er,
They wield the sword no more
    To smite our foes;
No sound of hostile drum
To their low tents may come,
Or break the silence dumb
    Of their repose.

But grateful throngs shall bring
Each year their offering
    Of grief and love;
Bright garlands shall be spread,
And tribute tear-drops shed
For patriotic heroes dead,
    Their tombs above.

To Thee, Oh! Lord, our God,
Up from this holy sod
    Our voices rise;
Oh! freedom's cause maintain,
For which our brave were slain,
Forbid our rend'ring vain
    Their sacrifice.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The forty-fifth anniversary of the American Sunday School Union took place at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia, on last Tuesday evening. The presence and singing of scholars from the different Sunday schools had a fine effect upon the meeting. The union of the old and young on such an occasion gives a delightful view of this noble work. Capital addresses were delivered by Dr. Schenck, of Brooklyn, Rev. M. M. G. Dana, of Norwich, Conn., N. Kingsbury, and Rev. Frank L. Robbins. The grand summing up show that the receipts from all sources were, $93,875.88; donations to schools, $12,988.58; expended by auxiliaries, $5,730.31. The Board have employed during the year seventy-four missionaries in twenty-three States, whose aggregate term of service has been fifty-eight and a half years. The results are as follows: New schools organized, 1,393; new schools having teachers, 8,465; new schools having scholars, 59,429; schools visited and aided, 5,573; schools having teachers, 50,468; schools having scholars, 376,130; families visited religiously, 25,449; bibles and testaments distributed, 13,176; miles travelled, 260,719, sermons and addresses delivered, 7,492. The Board acknowledges their obligations to the American Bible Society for their generous grant of 3,000 bibles and 15,000 testaments.

From the report of the Executive Committee of the Board of Home Missions of the United Presbyterian Church, just held at Monmouth, Ill., the seat of the General Assembly now in session, we learn that the debt of last year has been paid, and that the Presbyteries have asked for the services of ninety-one men for the next year; but only seventy-four missionaries have been placed at the disposal of the Board. The Presbyteries have also asked for appropriations for the coming year to the amount of thirty-nine thousand four hundred and ten dollars.

The Presbyterian gives quite a glowing account of the Commencement exercises of Lane Theological Seminary, at Walnut Hills, near Cincinnati, Ohio. Among the speakers on that occasion, we note with pleasure, that Rev. F. A. Noble, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church of this city, delivered the address before the Society of Inquiry. It is represented as being a masterly effort and worthy of the occasion and the man. The following points were well taken and beautifully elaborated and illustrated: 1. The gospel applies help to our race just where help is most needed, going to the bottom of our necessity as naught else does. 2. The Gospel is assured of success for it secures the favor and co-operation of God. 3. Of all the instruments for good in its practical precepts and influences are the strongest incentives to virtue and effective checks to vice.

Rev. Dr. Clark, Secretary of the American Board, in a recent sermon on the occasion of the ordination of some students, shows the results of mission work, since the modern missionary movement began eighty years ago. Now there are forty-two societies, with seventeen hundred missionaries, engaged in missionary fields. Sixty years ago the American Board was not in existence; now it has two hundred churches, and has, reckoned in all, seventy thousand converts. In 1788 there was nothing given for the evangelization of the heathen; in 1868, five millions of dollars were contributed.

The Presbyter estimates that both Princeton and Allegheny Seminaries have lost considerable on account of their attitude against reunion. In 1864 Princeton had one hundred and eighty-six theological students; now it has one hundred and seven. In 1862 Allegheny had one hundred and fifty-eight, while now it has but seventy-two. On the other hand, it says, the Presbyterian Seminary at Chicago has greatly increased in students of late, certainly not having lost favor on account of its support of reunion.

At the recent election of officers in the Baptist Missionary Union, at Boston, Rev. Dr. Anderson, of Rochester, New York, of the "High Church" party, was elected President, instead of President Caswell, of Brown University, who was regularly presented for re-election by the Nominating Committee, but was defeated because of his toleration of a difference of judgment in reference to close communion.

A very important question was decided by a civil court of Philadelphia, recently, that the church officers, and not the trustees of the society, have the power in the Presbyterian Church to appoint the organist, and control this as one department of public worship.

In compliance with the request of a number of religious organizations, Postmaster General Creswell has determined to order the Sunday mail to be dispensed with to and from Cape May, Atlantic City, and other watering places.

The great National Camp Meeting of the Methodists, will be held this year at Round Lake, Saratoga county, New York, commencing Tuesday, July 6, and closing Friday, July 16. The meeting last year was held in the eastern part of this State. Excursion tickets, we believe, can be bought on most of the roads leading to the place. Persons in this State can be supplied at the Methodist Book Rooms at Philadelphia.

The Advance says some one thinks it strange that they play the liveliest tunes at church in the most solemn part of the service—when the collection is being taken up.

The General Council of the National Council of Unitarian and other "Liberal" Churches, will be held at New York on the 9th of June.

The Annual Convention of the State Sunday School Society will be held at Williamsport, Penn., beginning Monday, June 1st. Sunday School teachers and superintendents, and clergymen interested in the work, are invited to be present from all parts of the State. Each Sunday School is requested to send one or more delegates. The delegates will be furnished with homes.

Who Killed Tecumseh?

Who killed Tecumseh? Few questions, rising out of our contest with the Indians, have been oftener asked, or more unsatisfactorily answered. The following account I had some twenty-five years since, from Lieutenant Huston, of Kentucky, and offer it as being not only plausible, but so far as I am aware, not heretofore published. There was in the army of General Harrison an old Kentucky Indian spy. On the morning of the battle, this spy had observed certain signs of the presence of Indians watching the movements of the army, and concealing himself, he got sight of one that had been hidden on a small island in the river; he shot him, swam his horse to the Island and obtained his scalp. When he regained his place in the ranks, he found his companions discussing the probabilities of a battle. Putting his hand into his coat pocket, he pulled out and shook at them his trophy, saying "I have got one of their night-caps anyhow," and added, "we will have a battle before two hours. I have been in seventeen Indian fights; to-day I will be in the eighteenth; then I shall go home and grease my old rifle and hang her up for the good she has done." In a few minutes the conflict commenced. Col. Richard Johnson being ordered to advance and draw the fire of the Indians who lay concealed in the tall grass, and having done so to retreat, allowing the main line to engage the enemy, but the Col's impetuosity carried him into the midst of the savages, and for a time his command received the concentrated fire of that portion of the enemy. He received a wound in the hand with which he managed his bridle, in consequence of which he was unable to control his mare. An Indian observing the fact, attempted to tomahawk the Colonel, but he drew a pistol and shot the Indian. The man was afterwards killed and the Colonel rescued from his perilous condition. On the next morning Lieut. Houston called at the tent of Col. Johnson, and in answer to his inquiries about the incidents of the battle, was requested to go to the scene of the conflict and look up the Colonel's dead Indian, whom he found, as directed, lying near to the dead mare—a large Indian, shot in the forehead, the ball passing down at an angle, indicating that he had been shot by a man close to him and on horse back. Upon receiving the report of his friend, the Colonel replied, "That's my dead Indian." Tecumseh was shot through the body, the ball passing horizontally, showing that he was killed by a man on the ground. And now who killed Tecumseh? Our old Kentucky spy had his horse shot under him, and his body was found lying close to that of Tecumseh; his old rifle, which he was to have greased and hung up after the battle, was lying seven feet from him; but his knife was in his hand and it was then believed that he died in an attempt to obtain the scalp of the great Indian hero. For a time no one could identify Tecumseh with certainty. Finally a negro, who had ran away from his master and had gone to the Indians, but had left them and joined the army before the battle, said he could identify Tecumseh by certain scars which he had observed on his body when in bathing with him. Thus was the fallen chief pointed out, and to the Old Hero of "eighteen Indian battles" was the honor given of having stopped his career of blood; and of having lost his own life in his eagerness to have Tecumseh's "night-cap," to grace the walls of his cabin in his forest home. Years after, a Kentucky politician, for political purposes, was mean enough to rob the old fallen hero of his well earned glory. Yet it is some consolation to know that the public judgment everywhere enters her demur against the usurper's claim.

HISTORICUS.

THE latest trustworthy accounts from the peach-growing sections of Maryland and Delaware—particularly that portion of those States comprising the peninsula lying between the Cheasapeake and Delaware—exhibit glowing promise of an abundant crop. Notwithstanding the recent unfavorable weather, it is estimated, by those competent to judge, that there are on the peninsula three millions of four year old peach trees uninjured and in prime bearing condition. There are also nearly one million three year old trees in equally good condition. The entire yield of this section for the coming season is confidently predicted at not less than five million baskets of peaches.

AT the last census the large cities of Northern Germany had the following population: Berlin, 703,000; Hamburg, 218,000; Breslau, 167,000; Dresden, 156,000; Cologne, 120,000; Konigsberg, 106,000; Magdeburg, 104,000; Leipsic, 92,000; Dantzic, 88,000; Frankfort-on-the-Main, 78,000; Hanover, 74,000; Stettin, 74,000; Aix la Chapelle, 68,000; Breman, 67,000; Altona, 67,000; Dusseldorf, 63,000; Chemnitz, 59,000, Crefeld, 54,000; inhabitants. The rest of the cities of North Germany contained less than 50,000 inhabitants each.

A Big Concert.

It has just been discovered that the great Boston Peace Jubilee is not entirely without a parallel in the history of the world as a musical undertaking. A concert, very well worthy in many respects to be mentioned in the same day with it, occured near the beginning of the seventeenth century, at Dresden, under the patronage of the Prince Elector of Saxony. The performance was that of an oratorio of Holofernes. The Coppellmaster proposed to the Prince a performance of extraordinary magnitude, and was rewarded for the suggestion with a gift of five barrels of beer from the Electoral brewery, and told to proceed and execute the plan, the State Treasury bearing all the cost.

All the musicians of Germany, France, Switzerland, Italy and Poland were invited to appear on the day appointed in the first week of July, 1615, and the performers assembled to the number of five hundred and seventy instrumentalists, and over a thousand singers. Some of the instruments of the foreign musicians looked very strange to the Dresden people, and the oldest of all were described in the record. A Pole from Cracow, named Rapotzky, brought on a wagon, drawn by eight mules, "a terrible double bass" fourteen feet high, which could only be played by an artist willing to run up and down a ladder with his bow. The ingenious Cappellmaster cast even this into the shade by tying a strong shis's rope to the wing of a windmill, to be used as a single-stringed violin, a big saw serving for a bow. Besides these the large copper kettles of the brewery, and a battery of the guns of the period, were commonplace instruments.

After a week of rehearsal the concert took place in the open air, on the 15th of July, in the suburbs of Dresden, seats having been built in the form of an amphitheatre. The principal male solist was one Rumpler, a student from Wittemburg, who was allowed free access to the public beer to strengthen his powerful voice, with such excellent effect that when his bass chimed in with the instruments above mentioned, "every thing trembled." The prima donna was Bigazzi, from Milan, who received the greatest applause of the day, as she ought, for she sung artificial cadences with such fatal vigor that she died three days afterward. The greatest violin-player of that day, Signor Sciopie, of Cremona, was also present, and gave a piece to the entertainments by playing on his instrument while holding it behind his back.

The final of the programme was a grand double figure representing the Israellites and Assyrians engaged in a furious battle, the realistic effect of which was heightened by the two parties of chorus singers throwing apples at each other. This feature especially pleased the electoral sovereign, and he presented the Cappellmaster with a reward of fifty florins.

Boston has still something to do to surpass all this.

Washington Items.

The President has distinctly asserted his determination to put an end to all assassinations and other disturbances in South Carolina and Florida in the future, if possible. With that end in view he has instructed General Terry, who has been assigned to that department, and will take command on June 1st, to render efficient and cheerful aid in the suppression of all disturbances, and the protection of citizens in their persons and property. Gen. Terry is regarded at the White House as a rigid disciplinarian, a good lawyer, and altogether thoroughly competent to deal with the difficulties he must necessarily encounter in his new position.

A strong effort is being made to have Secretary Boutwell recede from his new position in selling gold and buying bonds. Of course they will not succeed, and they are aware of the fact by this time. A proposition was made for him to use the currency received from the sale of $1,000,000 of coin per week in redeeming the three per cent. loan certificates before the interest becomes due. Mr. Boutwell has the suggestion under consideration. He will continue to sell surplus gold, and establish a sinking fund of at least twenty-six millions. There is considerable disappointment in speculative circles.

A Republican nominating Convention was held Thursday afternoon. It was as exciting as the various political elements in this district could make it. The ticket finally decided upon was as follows: "For Collector, F. A. Boswell; for Register, John F. Cook; for City Surveyor, P. H. Donegan." Boswell is an American, Cook a colored man, and Donegan an Irishman. The registration shows that the Republicans can carry the city unless a split takes place, and some of the defeated candidates threaten to run independents, or join a citizens' movement.

Lafayette and Washington.

The Edinburg Review in a recent number publishes two letters, dated in 1792 and 1793, from the Marchioness de Lafayette to General Washington, asking for his aid in obtaining the release of her husband from captivity at Olmutz, in Austria. The second letter complains that no attention had been paid to the first, and the Review, in commenting upon this, hints very plainly that General Washington was ungrateful and neglectful of his former comrade by disregarding the appeal of the wife for aid. This covert charge, however, can at once be refuted, as Sparks' Washington prints the letters of the Marchioness de Layfaette, and gives an account of the efforts made to secure the liberation of General Lafayette. The first letter, dated October 8, 1792, was received by General Washington in February, 1793, having been delayed by coming by way of England, and through private hands. On March 13th following, President Washington wrote to Madame Lafayette in unusually warm terms of sympathy and freindship, and explained that every effort had already been, and would continue to be made, to relieve her husband. This letter was enclosed in a letter of instructions on the subject to the American Minister, Gouverneur Morris. The representations of Mr. Morris were persistently made for four years. General Washington was constantly urging the subject of the release of Lafayette upon the American Ministers in every country of Europe, and himself wrote a private letter to the Emperor Francis II. of Austria. Madame Lafayette's second letter was written by her on March 13th, in ignorance of the delay in the delivery of her first, and her complaints required no fuller explanations than those already transmitted.—Phila. Ledger.

DR. WHITTIER

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Orchitis, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
FRIDAY, May 28, 1869. }

The market for metal continues quiet though this is usually the case at this season of the year, as the time is not far distant when the mills generally suspend operations in order to take stock and make repairs. With only moderate receipts, however, and no great accumulation of stock, and notwithstanding, the tendency is downward, prices compared with last week, have undergone no important change. There is still some inquiry for small lots of desirable foundry irons, and a very limited supply of this particular kind in market.

Bar Iron and Nail trade is reported dull and unsatisfactory, and the season all through has been a hard one on manufacturers. There is not so much complaint in regard to the demand, as there is in regard to the extremely low prices; it is said, and we have no doubt it is true, that manufacturers, have great difficulty in realizing, cost and that if they even do that, they are doing well, and that other points, in order to establish a trade, have been selling below cost.

RIVER NEWS.

The river, under the influence of the recent rains, is rising, with five feet seven inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. Weather continues cloudy and oppressively warm, with frequent showers of rain.

There have been no arrivals since the date of our last report aside from the packets. The Lorena from St. Louis and Glasgow from St. Paul are among the first boats due.

The Kenton departed for Parkersburg and the New State for Wheeling. The former had a very good trip.

The Grey Eagle, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving at noon. The Eagle is now the only boat in the trade.

The Glendale for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi, and the Kate Putnam for Cincinnati and Louisville, will take their departure early next week.

—Later reports from the Cora S are that most of her cargo will be saved, and that chances are favorable for raising the boat. Capt. Palmer, agent of the underwriters, left for the wreck Wednesday night.

—The pilots of the Ohio report an ugly snag in the channel at Higginsport, about half way between the mouth of the creek and the wharfboat.

—The Falls City, in attempting to pass through the locks at Rumsey, on Green river, stuck fast, and was still in that condition on Monday morning. It seems that on each side of the lock there is an iron bar, and that the Falls City, being very heavily laden, as she entered the lock the bars cut into her guards about two inches and held her fast.

—The Emma No. 3, arrived at New Orleans on Thursday.

—The Argosy was to have left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

—Barker Hart & Cook, have sold the Nightingale to Capt. John Kyle, for $4,500. Capt. Kyle will probably place her in the Cincinnati and Arkansas River trade, in place of the Cheyenne.

—The Cora S, recently sunk in Arkansas River, is insured in Cincinnati offices for $6,500. Her cargo is also insured there and will prove a heavy loss.

—The Belle Vernon left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday, drawing 4½ feet. John Ferguson and Nick Whitten, pilots.

—The steamer Pink Varble is to be sold auction at Nashville June 1st.

—Capt. John D. Adams, Superintendent of the Memphis and Arkansas River Packet Company, has purchased Capt. Cummin's half interest in the Natoma, at the rate of $15,00 for the boat. The packet company now own the whole of the steamer.

—The towboats Ajax and Dick Fulton left here with big tows of coal, but judging from the following from the Vicksburg Times of Friday they have added largely since: "The towboats Ajax and Dick Fulton No. 3, passed down yesterday for New Orleans. The former had a very large tow, containing 4,400,000 bushels of coal, the latter had 2,400,000." Ajax, four million four hundred thousand bushels of coals. Whew! Well bully for the Ajax.—Louisville Courier.

—Supervisor Nash, of Tennessee, who is at present in Washington, has submitted to Commissioner Delano a proposition to extend the revenue marine into the navigable waters of the Ohio. Mississippi and Missouri rivers and their tributaries, in aid of the internal revenue. He proposes that these streams be patroled with swift-sailing steam tugs, duly equipped, with a view to checkmate frauds in whisky and tobacco, which it is believed, are carried on upon these rivers to an alarming extent. He is of opinion that such service would be of as much benefit to the Internal Revenue as it is to the Custom Department.

—The following are the number and locations of the different districts of Supervising Inspectors of steamboats in the United States: First district, San Francisco, California; Second district, New York city; Third district, Baltimore, Maryland; Fourth district, St. Louis, Missouri; Fifth district, Galena, Illinois; Sixth district, Louisville, Kentucky; Seventh district, Chicago, Illinois; Ninth district, Buffalo, New York; Tenth district, New Orleans, Louisiana.

—The Parkersburg Times says work was resumed on the railroad bridge at that point Saturday. One hundred laborers are wanted immediately, to whom permanent work will be given, as it is expected that operations will now continue until the bridge is finished. Between four and five hundred men will be employed, and as large a force as can be handled in order to expediate the enterprise will be used.

The Tom Rees and barges left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Wednesday and the Wild Duck and barges arrived there the same day.

The Great Republic will leave for New Orleans next Wednesday, under the auspices of the barge company.

We clip the following from the St. Louis Democrat of Thursday: Wm. J. Kountz has sued, for Hiram K. Hazlett, J. H. Morse, of the steamboat Lily, for $1,000 damages for alleged violation of contract to transport Government stores from St. Louis and Leavenworth to Fort Rice and Fort Sully, in May, 1868.

SATURDAY, MAY 29, 1869.

☞ REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republican voters of Allegheny county are requested to meet at the usual places for holding elections in the several wards, boroughs and townships, on

SATURDAY, MAY 29th, 1869,

And elect delegates from each election district to each of the three following Conventions, viz:

Two delegates from each to the COUNTY CONVENTION, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Sheriff, Recorder, Register, Treasurer, Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions, Clerk of the Orphans' Court and Commissioner.

Two other delegates from each to the LEGISLATIVE CONVENTION, for the purpose of nominating one candidate for State Senator, for one year, to fill the unexpired term of Russell Errett, resigned, and six candidates for Assembly. And

Two other delegates from each to the JUDICIAL CONVENTION, to nominate one candidate for Judge of the District Court, and one candidate for Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, and elect eight delegates to represent the county in the Republican State Convention.

These Conventions will severally meet, in the city of Pittsburgh, on

TUESDAY, JUNE 1, 1869,

At 11 o'clock A. M., at the following places:

The COUNTY CONVENTION will meet at the COURT HOUSE.

The LEGISLATIVE CONVENTION will meet at CITY HALL, on Market street. And

The JUDICIAL CONVENTION will meet in MASONIC HALL, on Fifth avenue, between Wood and Smithfield streets.

The election of delegates will be held between the hours of 4 and 7 o'clock P. M., and will be held, as far as practicable, by the Republican members of the election boards in the several districts; and in those districts where the Republican election officers are a minority of the regular election boards, the said officers are authorized to appoint enough additional officers to complete the board.

The voting in the cities and boroughs shall, in all cases, be by ballot, and in the townships by marking.

The President of each Convention will appoint a Committee of three, the three Committees thus appointed to meet together, as soon as practicable after the adjournment of the Conventions, and appoint a County Committee for the ensuing year.

By order of the County Committee.

RUSSELL ERRETT, Chairman.
JOHN H. STEWART, Secretary.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 139⅛.

FAULTY and incomplete as the construction of the Union Pacific Railway has been, it bears a favorable comparison with the work of the other company, from the place of junction to the Pacific. It is reported, by the special commission which has just examined the entire length of line, that the first may be made a first class and complete road by a further expenditure of $6,459 per mile, while $9,062 per mile would be required to bring the California end of the road to the same standard. It also appears that, to complete both roads fully up to the best Eastern standards, will require a further total expenditure of about $13,500,000.

A NOBLE WOMAN GONE TO REST.

Mrs. SUSAN KING WADE, wife of Major WILLIAM WADE, of this city, died on Friday morning, of congestion of the brain, in the 70th year of her age. Mrs. WADE was a lady of more than ordinary vigor of intellect, accomplished and faithful in all domestic duties. Earnest, devoted and judicious in co-labor with others in every work of Christian philanthropy and charity, and a model of dignity, intelligence and grace in every social relation admired and loved by all who knew her, she will be lamented, and her memory will be revered by society and the Church in which she was a shining light, and above all, and with ineffable grief, by the stricken and bereaved head and branches of her family. The funeral services will be at Christ's Episcopal Church, Allegheny, at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

RELIGIOUS UNITY.

The disagreement of the subordinate judicatories of the two wings of the Presbyterian denomination to the plan of union as proposed last year, has led the two Assemblies, now sitting at New York, to another still more practical overture for a complete reconciliation. The new basis ignores all questions of discipline, and only requires the acceptance of the Testaments and of the Confession of Faith, without specifying the precise sense in which the latter shall be construed. This is an earnest effort to take away all excuses for further difference, and seems to have been cordially welcomed as such in each Assembly. However the lesser bodies of the denomination may view the present suggestion, it is clear that the two General Councils concur heartily in the disposition to adopt it. With the very strong votes which they will record in its favor, it is not reasonable to expect its defeat in any respectable number of the Presbyteries, to which it is about to be referred for decision. Nor is such an apprehension felt at New York. On the contrary, the final and authoritative endorsement of this plan of reunion is so confidently anticipated, that its consummation will not be postponed until another annual meeting. The two Assemblies will adjourn to meet in November next, in this city, when the final and complete reunion, after more than thirty years of schism, will be wholly accomplished. If these anticipations be justified by results, a very numerous denomination among our citizens will be permitted to become personally witnesses to proceedings of immeasurable interest and importance to American Presbyterianism.

THE PROGRESS OF LIQUIDATION.

We are promised, for the current month, a reduction of the public debt by the sum of about thirteen millions of dollars, or at the rate of over one hundred and fifty millions for the year. That annual rate is not, however, to be expected, as the duties just now paid on the spring importations will not hold up for every month of the year, and the internal revenue returns are, as usual at this time, about the average. But it is clearly evident that the revenues are more faithfully collected and accounted for to the Treasury, and that the public expenses have been more vigorously retrenched than at any period during the past four years. We are getting in more cash and paying less out than ever before since the war ended. A comparison of the three months of March, April and May, this year, with the corresponding months in the years preceding will sustain a conclusion most flattering to the credit of this Administration, and to the just expectations of the people. And we have good reasons for believing that the current fiscal year will close with next month with a stronger exhibit of our financial ability as a people, and a upon a more absolute certainty of the early extinguishment of the national debt, than the country has seen since that debt was created.

A LESSON FOR THE DAY.

A mighty nation, absorbed in the active business of life, to-day ceases to occupy itself with its accustomed interests, and casts flowers on the graves of men who died the noblest of deaths, fighting on the field for liberty under the law, wasting away in hospitals with diseases contracted while in their country's service or starving miserably in the brutal prison-pens of an almost barbarous enemy. This is not a gala day; it is no time for junketing and rejoicing as on the Fourth of July. Sad, grateful memories, and not jollity and dancing, are inspired by the music appropriate to this touching anniversary, when the surviving comrades of the soldiers of the dead, yet ever living past, are accompanied by the soldiers of the future, (now crowding our schools,) in their solemn march to those honored and countless tombs which cover the dust of noble hearts and willing hands. Eloquence and poetry and flowers—these are the well chosen tributes to be offered to-day, mingled perhaps with tears, before the shrine of memory. Little children are to be led by the hand to look upon a ceremony which ought to show that success is not the only quality honored by the people, nor achieved rank and fame all that can recall the brave deeds, heroic sacrifices and steadfast struggles which are buried beneath more than a lustre of busy years of time. Anxious men and women too, troubled with the constant friction of the uneasy world about them, may gaze to-day upon a solemn pageant of chastened sorrow, and be reminded that after the weary battles of this world there is rest and even honor to be found in an humble honest grave.

THE PRIMARY MEETINGS.

The Republicans of Allegheny county hold their meetings, for the selection of delegates to the three Conventions, this afternoon, Saturday, May 29th, assembling at their respective places of election at 4 o'clock, P. M., and closing the work before 7 P. M. Three hours are thus given to each precinct—time enough to receive and record its entire Republican vote. We shall be under obligations to such of our friends as will report to us the names of their delegates as early as Monday evening.

Let every Republican attend these meetings! Do not stay away needlessly, and afterwards find fault with results which your attendance and personal efforts might have made otherwise.

There has been talk about "rings." Go to the polls and look into that charge for yourselves. Seeing is believing, and nothing else can suffice to sustain the charge that has been made. With a full turn-out and a fair vote, this electioneering story of our open foes, or of the traitors who secretly plot in our own ranks, will be satisfactorily exploded. We do not believe it now, but we urge every Republican voter to be on hand to-morrow afternoon, and satisfy himself, whether the accusation be true or false.

Choose your best men for delegates! Pick out citizens of known character for intelligence, integrity and prudence! If possible, select men who shall be pledged to no especial candidates, but who will come up to the councils of the party, on Wednesday, with the single purpose of aiding to nominate a ticket which shall be creditable to this great county, and which shall satisfy the just expectations of an honest people.

Give every man a chance to be heard, and promise nothing to any man, or set of men, except that, to the best of your ability, the county of Allegheny shall have the best Republican ticket, this year, that can be selected from among all her intelligent and upright Republican voters.

Let us have such a ticket as shall make our traducers blush for their infamous libels upon Republican wisdom and virtue. A full turn-out to-day, electing for delegates good men, pledged to nothing but the united interests of the Republican party and of the tax-paying people, will not fail to give us precisely the right ticket next Wednesday.

AN INTRIGUE EXPOSED.

The Post comes to the aid of its Democratic brother, who does the political writing for the Commercial, and insists that he shall still be suffered to keep that journal hanging on to the verge of the Republican party. This is easily explained. The Commercial has been making capital for the opposition, for the past three months—making it "out of the whole cloth," coining slanders and trumping up a long but vague catalogue of libels, sustained by no specific proofs, but reiterated again and again with much wordy rhodomontade, which are to be the stock in trade for the opposition during this year's canvass. By all means, the Post should stick to its best friend, the officious volunteer who is managing the Commercial for the express purpose of promoting the election of Gen. Geo. W. Cass as a Democratic Governor. For that is the little game of the Leader-Commercial-Post Democratic coalition. Confident of securing the nomination of that gentleman as their candidate, they have laid their plans to contribute to his election, in cutting down, if possible, some thousands of our Republican majority against him, by inflaming local dissensions within our party. If this announcement surprises any of the Republican proprietors of the Commercial, we recommend them to look into the facts for themselves, and they will learn more, if they go to the bottom, than they have hitherto dreamed of.

Does any one, here in Pittsburgh, believe that the ostensible management of the Commercial would not sell it out to the friends of Gen. Cass, as readily as it was offered to those of Andrew Johnson, three years ago? Does any one believe that the ultra Democratic partisan, who really edits the Commercial, is not bent, heart and hand, upon the election of Gen. Cass, if nominated by his party, which he is likely to be? There can be but little excuse for our own intelligent Republicans who may wilfully shut their eyes hereafter to the game that the Commercial is playing. They ought to know well, by this time, the chronic venality and treachery of that journal. If any of the Republican press of Western Pennsylvania have also been misled by the Commercial's strategy, their mistake was more natural, for they did not know its peculiarities so well. We now commend the truer view to their attention, feeling impelled, by a sense of simple duty to our friends, to warn the Republican press of the Commonwealth against placing any confidence whatever, now or hereafter, in the political integrity of a journal which, under its present management, is steeped in the basest of meditated treacheries against our political organization.

DAMAGING TESTIMONY.

The English builders of the rebel ship Alabama, have published a letter, of which a Cable telegram says:

> The letter of the Messrs. Laird claims that the building of the Alabama was done in the way of business and free of concealment. It was known to the Government and public, and with the knowledge of the American Minister. The vessel was meant for war purposes, and intended for the use of the Confederate Government. It was notorious that no haste or secrecy was observed in any of the operations. Had there been anything illegal in the building or fitting out of the ship, ample time and opportunity existed for the Government to seize her, and the officers of the Custom House were informed on the 21st of July that she was ready for sea and might leave at any hour she pleased. No attempt was made to detain her, though Passmore and others made affidavits that men were enlisted to serve on her. They take the ground that the contract entered into for the building of the ship was not at variance with the laws of England, the opinion of the English people or practice of foreign nations. They quote written opinions which they allege support their position and go to show that the Alabama left Birkenhead unarmed, and went to Azores, to which place men and arms were sent from other ports.

This letter really states nothing new, since the facts embodied in it were equally well known, and susceptible of ample proof through other channels before. But as an open and explicit acknowledgment of these facts, from the parties who were individually most completely privy to the transactions, its publication at this moment seems to have fallen like an exploding shell upon the English press and public. As an undeniable exposition of the clear liability of that government, for all the damages resulting from its neglect to enforce its own neutrality-laws, the London journals see no other way of breaking its force than by recriminations against America. They frankly concede that, as concerns the Alabama, the law and the facts are plainly against them unless the statements of this letter shall be fully disproved. We quote:

> The Standard says of Lairds' letter that it is a clear charge of negligence against the Government. But whatever England's offence may have been, it is outdone one hundred fold by the wilful and wanton offenses of the United States against England, and any settlement will leave a heavy balance against the States. England's obligations were broken for the North as well as the South. The Americans were equally guilty of a breach of international obligations in the case of the Caroline, and in the case of the Fenian drillings and organizations.
> The Star thinks Lairds' letter aggravates the action of the British Government, besides the obligations of the Government to prevent all risk from the issuing forth of the Alabama. The ship was known as destined to prey on American commerce. Further obligations are raised by the fact that the Alabama was built and pierced for guns, and to accommodate a war crew, facts reported by British Custom House officers, as also that she was really intended for war purposes. This knowledge obviously devolved upon the Government the duty of making the foreign enlistment act go as far as possible in this case. There is good reason to suspect that the act would have gone far enough if a hearty effort had been made to stretch its provisions honestly and extend its purpose to the case.

MR. C. YEAGER.

This gentleman, well known as one of our largest importers of variety and fancy goods, will sail for Europe next Saturday, having taken passage on the "City of Paris," to sail on the 5th proximo. He contemplates making heavier importations this year than formerly, and will make his selections in person at the English, French and German manufactories, and, while there, will perfect arrangements for monthly shipments, being determined to give to his establishment, in Market street,—already the most extensive in the city,—a still more metropolitan character. Success to such men and such enterprise. It is by such men that great cities are made.

NEW BRIGHTON.

Miss Dargon's Readings—G. A. R. Decoration of Soldiers' Graves on Saturday.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW BRIGHTON, May 28, 1869.

Miss Dargon gave a select reading in Concert Hall, this place, last night, for which she deserves credit, as well as proper remuneration. She has a good voice, articulates well, gesticulation quite good, and, withal, is an apt mimic, which is very important in her vocation. She will read again to-night at the same place.

The members of the Grand Army of the Republic, Post No. —, of New Brighton, are busy preparing for the decoration ceremonies which are to take place on to-morrow (Saturday,) afternoon. Business is to be suspended several hours, so that all may attend.

Those of us who are loyal to God as well as to our country, who appreciate the sacrifice of the Son of God for the welfare of the whole world, as well as, nay more, than the sacrifice of our noble brothers for the welfare of our country, regret very much that General Logan found it in his heart to ask us to attend to those ceremonies on the Lord's holy day; but we are glad that the ministers of this post, as also many others, have substituted Saturday for Sabbath.

While we decorate the graves of our fallen heroes, let us also remember our duty toward the dear ones they have left behind, and in our care. Their debtors we are. Let us do right by them, and not let them suffer if we can prevent it. Let us also pray the Ruler of nations that the blessings so dearly bought may never be wrested from us.

BEAVER FALLS.

Another Church Organized.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BEAVER FALLS, May 28, 1869.

This enterprising town, added another to its church organizations on last Sabbath, to be known as "The Methodist Church" of Beaver Falls. It is a branch of the First Methodist Church of New Brighton, of which S. F. Crowther is pastor, who also had the honor of organizing the new church, and will sustain the relation of pastor until other arrangements can be made. The intention is to erect a house of worship this summer. The prospects are encouraging. For a while the services will be held in the School House, Sabbath afternoons, at 3 o'clock.

Slave Traffic Between Polynesia and Australia.

Some terrible revelations are coming out respecting the atrocities committed by British captains in "recruiting" islanders in the southern seas, under license of the Queensland Government. A shipmaster and one of his crew have been committed for trial at Sydney for the murder of three natives of the New Hebrides. It appears that the Captain, after discharging a cargo at Fiji, made a raid among the New Hebrides Islands for "niggers," as the Polynesians are called, to work on the newly established plantations at Fiji. The vessel was five weeks gone, and when it returned landed 230 natives, including six women, something like £1,200 having been cleared by the transaction. During the voyage, off the island of Palma, three natives were forced on board, who, breaking open the hold in which they were confined, fought for their liberty, and were shot down and tumbled overboard by command of the supercargo, and under the silent sanction of the Captain. The vessel was just on the point of starting again from Sydney on another expedition when the Captain was arrested.

THE Kirghiz tribes of Central Asia have lately given a remarkable proof of their capacity for civilization. Some years ago they petitioned the Russian Government to allow a number of their women to be carefully educated in obstetric science in order to act as experienced midwives for the tribes. The petition was granted, and they are so well satisfied with the result that they now apply to have certain others of their women educated in all branches of medicine. An exception to the Russian law (which prohibits the study of medicine by women) was obtained with some difficulty, and the Kirghizes are at present paying the expenses of board and study in St. Petersburg for their future doctresses.

ACCORDING to Chinese writers, the great bell of Canton was cast five centuries ago. At first no person was bold enough to strike it. Afterward, however, one of the officials ordered it to be struck, whereupon upward of one thousand infants, male and female, died throughout the city. On this account young children, both boys and girls, were made to wear clothing with fringes, to which small silver bells were attached as a charm to ward off the evil influence.

The Influence of Sun Heat on Fruits.

Never was there a greater mistake made than that of supposing that fruit produced in the shade has the best flavor; it is a false notion, the mere chimera of half a century ago. The black Hamburg grape is, to some extent, an exception; for its berries will not color if the branches are deprived of too many of their leaves, so as to let the sun in among the bunches too freely; whereas, the Muscat of Alexandria will not attain its rich amber color if so much overcrowded with leaves as to keep the rays of the sun from penetrating freely among the bunches. A pineapple produced in the winter has not the flavor of one ripened in the summer months of the year, when the sun is powerful. Again: under the old method of planting strawberries in beds four feet wide, the fruit is not to be compared, either in size or flavor, with that of those planted out in single rows. Now, what is the reason of this? I contend that it is in consequence of the action of the sun upon the fruit. The fruit shaded by leaves will always be more or less insipid and worthless, as compared with that on which the sun has had full play. It is the sun that puts flavor into our fruits.—Journal of Horticulture.

LIEUT WARREN, at Jerusalem, reports an interesting discovery near the pool (cistern) of Bethesda. In an adjoining gaaden he found three cisterns, with small openings to the surface of the earth. Two of these, on examination, were found to be ordinary water tanks, but the third, ten feet below the soil, terminated in a small chamber, the floor of which was covered with water to the depth of three feet. On lighting a magnesium wire, Lieut. Warren found that this chamber communicated with an immense hall, whose hundreds of arches reminded him of the Cathedral of Cordova. It was a grand ancient reservoir, similar to those in Constantinople and at Baiæ. Further investigations showed that there was a direct communication between it and the pool of Bethesda.—Putnam for June.

CAPITAL AND LABOR.—Messrs. Briggs, of Whitwood Collieries, England, who boast of having done so in their own individual case, make a proposal of universal application. Its gist is expressed in a term which they use, "labor-capital." They would treat labor as a thing invested, and having as much right to participation in good profit as capital. They propose that the wages given to the men shall be equal to that received for the same work in the neighborhood. The income derived by the proprietors must be fixed according to the capital invested, at a rate, also similar to that taken by other proprietors in the same district. Then if any further capital remains, it shall be divided as a bonus in favor of an equal percentage over the aggregate amount of "invested capital" and of wages or salaries ("labor-capital") earned during the period in which such profit has accrued. How about the losses?

THE London Lancet joins other medical authorities in condemning the use of the velocipede. The Lancet states that the exercise, like all gymnastic feats, requires for safety that it should only be gradually acquired, and that great efforts should be studiously avoided. Take away the "high rate of speed," and substitute "careful regulation," and what becomes of the "fun of the thing?"

AN English paper gives a curious calculation of the weight in gold which each of the liberated Abyssinian captives has cost the country. Ten millions sterling, reduced to weight in sovereigns, represents 78 tons 12 cwts. 1 qr. 14 lb. 8 oz., or for each of the sixty men, women and children released from the clutches of King Theodore an expenditure in solid gold of 1 ton 6 cwts. 23 lbs. and 1 oz.

MECHANICAL MEDICAL APPLIANCES.

There are certain phases of disease, and certain diseased conditions of the human system, which proceed from displacement and mal-position of some of the various organs of the human body. These are not remediable by the usual and ordinary methods used for the cure of other ailments; but require some mechanical stay or support to maintain the parts in position until they are healed. Prominent among these may be classed a displacement called hernia, or rupture, which is a protrusion of part of the bowel, and which must be returned and kept to its place by some outward support which should be properly adjusted in order to secure immunity from inconvenience and danger. The prevalence of this condition is now very common and should be attended to immediately on its appearance, not only because of the present inconvenience which its produces, but also in consequence of the usual danger of strangulation which is rarely remedied but by a surgical operation.

Varicose veins in the legs and varicocele are other forms of structural changes which need immediate and scientific outward support, in order to afford relief or effect a cure. Each of these conditions are now as much within the pale of successful treatment as any of the other diseases to which mankind are liable.

Stooped shoulders may be cured at once by the use of my Shoulder Braces, which not only maintain the body in an erect position, but at the same time enlarge its capacity, and allow free and full expansion to the lungs, always a necessary condition to a healthy and perfect use of the pulmonary organs.

There are hundreds of females who would find great benefit from wearing these shoulder braces as they are so constructed as to take all the dragging weight from the back or spine and suspend the clothing from the shoulders. Those who use my shoulder braces need not wear suspenders, as they answer the double purpose of shoulder brace and suspenders; in fact they are the best suspenders ever invented. Sold and applied at

THE VITAL STATISTICS OF THE UNITED STATES

Show that periodical fevers and acute and chronic disorders of the stomach and bowels are among the most prominent and fatal diseases in this country. Disobedience to the laws of health, as regards diet; the use of pernicious stimulants; and the wear and tear of business excitement, and of "fast life" generally, have much to do with the prevalence of these maladies in our cities; while in the West, and especially in the newly opened districts, they are chiefly due to malaria, unwholesome water, and the exposure and privation incident to life in new settlements.

Now, IT IS A FACT that that it is as possible to protect the human system against these maladies as to guard life and property against the incursions of assassins and thieves. Strengthen the vital organization with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and it becomes as capable of resisting the active principle of epidemic or endemic disease, as a fire-proof safe is of resisting the action of combustion. This is the experience of thousands who have remained unscathed by malarious disorders in the sickliest seasons, while their neighbors, who neglected to tone and regulate their systems with this unequaled medicinal stimulant, have fallen thick and fast around them. Weakness invites disease. Vigor repels it. Help nature to fight the good fight with infection, whether it be in the air, in the water, or the soil with this matchless preparation—a compound of the rarest vegetable extracts with the purest of all diffusive stimulants.

The Birthplace of Columbus.

The question of Columbus' birthplace has been almost as hotly contested as that of Homer's. A succession of pamphleteers had discussed the pretensions of half a dozen different Italian villages to be the birthplace of the great navigator; but still archæologists were divided on the subject, when, at a comparatively recent period, the discovery of the will in which Columbus bequeathed part of his property to the Bank of Genoa, conclusively settled the point in favor of that city. "Thence I came," he says, "and there I was born." As to the date of his birth there is no such direct evidence, and conjectures and inferences, founded on various statements in his own writings and those of his cotemporaries, range over the twenty years from 1436 to 1456, in attempting to assign the precise time of his appearance in the world. Mr. Irving adopts the earlier of these two dates, upon the authority of a remark by Berneldes, the curate of Los Palacios, which speaks of the death of Columbus in the year 1506, "at a good age, being seventy years old, a little more or less." But this statement has an air of vagueness, and is, moreover, inconsistent with several passages in Columbus' own letters. And the evidence of the ancient authorities who seem most to be relied on, points rather to the year 1447 or 1448 as the probable date.—Helps' Life of Columbus.

WASHING MACHINE!

It washes the finest fabrics, without injury, perfectly clean in less than one-eighth the ordinary way. It does not rub the cloth, but performs the cleansing process by steam and the quick action of hot water. PROTECTION

TO

HOME INDUSTRY.

The New York TRIBUNE will commence, on or about June 1st, the publication in weekly chapters of a treatise by its editor on Political Economy, designed more especially to elucidate and defend the policy of Protection to Home Industry. He expects to bring the work within the compass of twenty to twenty-five chapters of three or four columns each, and to treat the subject with such simplicity and directness that few can read these essays without at least realizing that the Protective policy is either grossly misunderstood or deliberately misrepresented by the champions of Free Trade. The public shall, at all events, realize that we, who stand for Protection, habitually read and try to comprehend our adversaries, while they ignore our writings and grossly caricature our arguments.

These essays will ultimately be printed together; but, in view of the desperate efforts of the Free Traders to forestall opinion and try to wrest a verdict from a public which has not heard the case argued, we ask the friends of Protection to aid us in giving these essays, as they originally fall from the press, a general diffusion.

The Free Trade League, organized in this city, by and in the interests of foreign manufacturers, is laboring assiduously through newspapers which it controls, and by the distribution of tracts and pamphlets, to destroy the Tariff and surrender our markets to the importers of foreign manufactured goods. Their efforts can best be counteracted by the dissemination of journals intelligently and continuously devoted to the protection of American labor and the fostering of American interests.

We shall print more than Two Hundred Thousand copies of each in our regular editions; but we hope they will receive a still wider dissemination through the formation of new clubs (which we supply at a fraction over the cost of white paper) for the WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

We believe that it will be for the interest of every establishment in the country, of whatever nature, to see to it that each workman is supplied with the TRIBUNE during the coming year. The question of Protection to Home Industry is soon to be all-absorbing, and it is of the utmost importance that every voter shall be well informed on the subject.

Whoever would have these essays from the outset must transmit their orders by the 1st of June.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE of June 2d will contain the first chapter.

TERMS OF THE TRIBUNE.

DAILY TRIBUNE, Mail Subscribers, $10 per annum.

SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE, Mail subscribers, $4 per an. Five copies or over, $3 each; an extra copy will be sent for every club of ten sent for at one time.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 28, 1869.

The markets in a general way are dull and devoid of any new or important characteristics. The demand for almost everything continues very limited, being confined entirely to supplying immediate wants, and the volume of business in the aggregate is light. The season is now very close at hand when dull times usually set in, and we have already had a foretaste of what is coming; still, with every prospect of an abundant harvest, there is no cause for being discouraged.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 28, 1869.

The market was unusually quiet today, the sales being comparatively insignificant while compared, with, yesterday, prices are without important change. It is reported, and we have good reason to believe that it is true, that the sales yesterday were much larger than those we had reported; it is said that New York and Philadelphia sold some fifty thousand barrels, about one half of which was bought by Pittsburgh. What the object was in suppressing the sales, we cannot say; possibly it was apprehended that it might have a bad influence on the market, and that the interests of the parties concerned would be better subserved by keeping it as quiet as possible. Be this as it may, it was a pretty big day's work, and as the sellers were eastern operators, it is safe to infer that they sold "short."

CRUDE.

There were but two sales reported, 3,000 bbls seller until 20th June, (40 to 46) at 13; and 1,000 spot, (40 to 45) at 13. As a general thing, there were but very few buyers at 13, and quotations may be fairly given at 12¾ offered and 13 asked. There was a sale reported at $4,90, on board cars at Venango City.

REFINED.

Also was unusually quiet and but three sales reported; 500 and 1,000 May, at 30; and 1,000 July, at 30½. All year, buyer, offered at 34½; July to December, at 31¾, and June, at 30. The shipments of Refined this week will foot up larger than for any preceding week this year, and it is probable that next week will go ahead of this one.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, May 28.—We announced two days ago that a speculative movement was likely to take place in cotton goods before twenty days, and we are able to verify this statement much earlier than we anticipated, for already a movement has taken place in unbleached and bleached goods, which goes to show a turning point has been reached and a reaction is soon to follow, consequently all western dealers who are in need of goods had better advise their buyers at once to purchase all cheap lots offering. All the cheap lots of heavy and light sheetings offering have been bought up and long lines of bleached goods have also changed hands at current rates, in anticipation of enhanced prices. Some heavy brown sheetings, like Stark, have been closed out at 14½. Fine bleached muslins, like Winthrop Mill A A, are selling down to 11½, which is cheap, and the Blackstone D at 12½. The Bay Mills show a beautiful line of these at 18c, and Water Twist of the same weight and count as Wamsutta at 17. Print cloths held at 8¼, preparatory to an effort to advance the price of fall prints.

THE COMET.

BY HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN.

Now the comet came with its shining nucleus and its nebulous tail. At the great castle they gazed at it, and from the poor shanty; the crowd in the street stared at it, and the solitary man that went his way over the pathless heath. Every one had his own thoughts. "Come and look at the vault of heaven, come out and look at the wonderful sight," they cried, and all hastened to look. But inside the room there sat yet a little boy and his mother. The tallow candle was burning, and the mother thought that there was a moth in the light; the tallow formed in ragged edges around the candle, and ran down the sides; this, she believed, betokened that her son should die very soon,—the shining little moth was turning towards him.

This was an old superstition in which she believed. The little boy was destined to live many years here on earth, and indeed, lived to see the comet again, when it returned sixty years after.

The boy did not see the candle-moth in the light, and thought not of the comet, which then for the first time in his life, looked brightly down from the skies. He sat quietly with an earthen dish before him; the dish being filled with soap-water, in which he dipped the head of a clay pipe, and then put the stem in his mouth, and made soap-bubbles, big and small. They quivered and fluttered in their beautiful colors; they changed from yellow to red, and from red to purple and blue; then they colored green, like the leaves when the sun is shining through them. "May God give thee many years to live here on earth, as many as the bubbles thou art blowing."

"So many, so many!" cried the little fellow. "I can never blow all the soap-water into bubbles. There flies one year, there flies another!" exclaimed he, when a new bubble broke loose from the pipe and flew off. Some of them flew into his eyes; they burned and smarted, and caused tears to flow. In every bubble he saw a picture of the future, glimmering and glittering.

"This is the time to see the comet!" exclaimed the neighbors; "come out-of-doors, and don't sit in the room."

And the mother took the boy by the hand; he had to lay the clay pipe aside, and leave his play with the soap-bubbles; the comet was there.

And the boy saw the brilliant fire-ball and the shining tail. Some said it was three yards long, others insisted it was several millions of yards long—only a slight difference.

Most of the people who had said that, were dead and gone when the comet came again; but the little fellow, towards whom the candle-moth had been turned, of whom the mother had thought, "He will die soon," he still lived, had become old and white-haired. "White hairs are the flowers of old age," says the proverb, and he had a good many of such flowers. He was now an old school-master. The school children said that he was very wise, and knew so very much; he knew history, and geography, and all that was known about heaven and its stars.

"Everything comes again," said he; "only pay attention to persons and events, and you will learn that they will always return; there may be a hundred years, or many hundred years, but then we shall have the same persons again, only in another coat, and in another country." And the school-master told them about William Tell, who was compelled to shoot an apple from his son's head; but before he shot the arrow, he hid another one in his bosom, to shoot into the breast of wicked Gesler. This took place in Switzerland. But many years before that happened, the same event occurred in Denmark with Walraloke; he was also obliged to shoot an apple from his son's head, and he also hid an arrow in his bosom, to avenge the cruelty. And several thousand years before that, the same story was written down in Egypt. This is a story, and a true one; it came again, and will come again, like the comet that returns, "flies away through space, stays away, but returns." And he spoke of the comet that was expected, and the same comet that he had seen when a boy.

The school-master knew what took place in the skies, but he did not, therefore, forget history and geography. His garden was laid out in the shape of a map of Denmark. Here were herbs and flowers which belong to different parts of the land.

"Fetch me herbs," said he, and they went to the bed that represented Laaland; "fetch me buckwheat," and they went to Largeland. The beautiful blue gentian was found at Skagen. The shining Christthorn at Wilkeborg. Towns and cities were marked with images. Here stood St. Knud, with the dragon, which meant Odense; Absalon, with the Bishop's staff, meant Soro. The old boat with the oars was a sign that there stood Aarhuus. From the schoolmaster's garden you could learn the geography of Denmark; but one had to be instructed by him first, and that was a great pleasure.

Now the comet was expected again, and of that he spoke; and he related what people had said in the olden times, when it appeared last; they had said that a comet year was a good wine year, and that one could mix water with that wine without its being detected. Therefore the merchants thought so much of a comet year.

The sky was overcast for two weeks; they could not see the comet, and yet it was there. The old school-master sat in his little chamber adjoining the school-room. The old Bornholm clock of his grandfather's time stood in the corner; the heavy lead weights did neither ascend nor descend, the pendulum did not move. The little cuckoo, that used to come forward in past times to cuckoo the passing hours, had for many years ceased to do his duty. Everything was dumb and silent; the clock was out of order.

But the old clavichord near by, made in his father's time, had yet a spark of life left. The strings could yet ring; true, they were a little hoarse, but they could ring the melodies of a whole lifetime. With these, the old man remembered so much both joyful and sorrowful, that had happened in the long series of years that had passed by since he, a little boy, saw the comet; and now, when that comet had come again, he remembered what his mother had said about the moth in the light; he remembered the beautiful soap bubbles that he blew, each of them representing a year of his life, as he had said, shining and sparkling in wonderful hues. He saw in them all his pleasures and sorrows, everything beautiful and sorrowful. He saw the child and its plays, the youth and his fancies, the whole world, in wavy brightness, opening before his gazing eyes; and in that sunlight he saw his future grow. These were the bubbles of coming time; now, an old man, he heard from the clavichord's strings the melodies of passing time, mind's bubbles, with memory's variegated colors. And he heard his nurse's knitting song—

"For sure no Amazone
Did ever stockings knit."

And then the strings sang the song the old papa of the house was wont to sing to him, when a child:

"In truth full many dangers
Will grow up here below,
For him, that yet is young,
And doth not fully know."

Now the melodies of the first ball were ringing the minuet and molinasky; then the melancholy notes of the flute passed by; bubble after bubble they hurried on, very much like those that he blew with soap-water, when a little boy.

His eyes were turned toward the window; a cloud in the sky was gliding by, and, as it passed, revealed the comet to his gaze, the sparkling nucleus, the shining tail.

It seemed as if it had been only the evening of yesterday that he had seen that comet, and yet a whole eventful lifetime lay between that evening and this. Then he was a child, and looked through the bubbles into the future; now the bubbles pointed back in the past.

Once more he had a child's feeling and a child's trust; his eyes sparkled, and his hands sank down upon the keys. There came a sound as of the breaking of a string.

"Come out and see!" shouted the neighbors; "the comet is here, and the sky is so clear; come out and look!"

The old schoolmaster answered not; he had gone where he should see more clearly; his soul was upon a journey far greater than the comet's, and into a wider space than the comet has to fly through.

And the comet was again seen from the rich castle, and from the poor shanty; the crowd in the street gazed at it, and the solitary man who walked through the pathless heath. But the schoolmaster's soul was seen by God, and the dear ones that had preceded, and whom he so much longed for.—Riverside Magazine.

The Village King in Hungary.

In Hungary, where long border wars with Turkey gave constant exercise to the courage, skill and address of the young men, personal valor and physical strength are still, especially in the southeastern parts, the titles to public esteem. Games that recall, in spirit, the Olympic games of Greece, are still held to test the prowess of the young men, and decide on the champion. Whit-Monday is the national day, and then the whole village, led by a band of gipsy musicians, proceed to the ground. The first test is a horse-race, in which the object is to wrest from the hands of a mounted standard bearer the flag that he holds. The distance to be run is about a mile and a half, and the successful rider must either distance all the rest, so as to capture it before they can come up, or, as more frequently happens, use all his skill and address to thwart others who are close upon him, and so bear off the prize, watchful even in his struggle that others do not suddenly dash up and outwit him. The successful champion is then put to another test requiring still greater strength and valor. This is to catch a wild bull, selected for the purpose, without any aid or help, and bring it, bound and obedient, to the village. This is a dangerous feat, often ending in the defeat of the aspirant. If he succeeds he enters the village in triumph, attended by his less fortunate competitors, and is declared king of the village for the ensuing year. His prerogative is not empty. He can run up a bill at the inn, during his reign, and he begins by a ball, to which all are invited, and dance and song and merriment run riot as the wine flows freely. Thus is the king enthroned by his new subjects.

Scalding Out a Robber.

On Sunday morning Mr. George Millspaugh and his family, who occupy rooms in the rear and over his store, at the corner of Third and Chambers streets, went to church, leaving the premises in the charge of the servant. The latter went into the cellar soon after the family left, and on her return to the room in the rear of the store, from which a window opens on the Chambers street side walk, she found a lusty young fellow half way through the window, climbing into the room. The girl demanded of him some information as to his unexpected and unseemly intrusion, whereupon he roughly and ungallantly suggested that it was "none of her d—d business." Not being able to agree with his view of the matter, the girl seized a dipper, and hastily filling it with boiling water standing on the stove, dashed the liquid in his face. With commendable discretion, the man beat a hasty retreat, exclaiming that he was scalded—which it is satisfactory to know, was probably the case—and, pausing for an instant to wipe his face, he made off at a rapid rate of speed.—Newburg (N. Y.) Journal.

It LOOKS as if the gold gamblers were in a bad way. In less than a fortnight gold has declined nearly six per cent., and, in spite of the vigorous efforts put forth by the Secretary's opponents, it still tends downward. We are only sorry that, when it was mounting rapidly in the forties, we were not able to realize on more of our surplus. But at any rate the general drift is all in our favor—Credit advancing, Gold declining, Revenue increasing, Debt diminishing, burden of Interest weekly growing less and less. The worst, we confidently hope and believe, is over.—N. Y. Tribune.

A NEW YORK despatch says: No doubt seems to be entertained, in well-informed circles, that Secretary Boutwell will soon sell gold for three per cent. certificates, being directed to that course by the President. Gold was sold down to 139¼, amid much excitement. There seems to be no confidence among buyers, and although the recorded transactions were large, the bears were obliged to throw but moderate amounts upon the market. The probability of Mr. Boutwell selling gold for three per cent. certificates, was the principal cause of the withdrawal of buyers.

SYMPTOMS of the breaking out of the oil fever again are alarmingly apparent at Marietta. The first deep well, at White Oak, proves to be a "flower" of one hundred barrels per day.—Zanesville Courier.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1 50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. my19:151-d&F

THOMAS STEEL,
Surveyor of Customs.

Alleged Embezzlement.—J. B. Hammer, dealer in paper bags, &c., on Hand street, made information before AldermanM cMasters, yesterday, against W. H. Wells, for embezzlement. The accused is charged with appropriating four hundred dollars for his own use, while acting as agent for Hammer. Warrant issued.

Chastised Him.—John O'Brien and Barney Gallaher were working yesterday on Webster street, when O'Brien, who was driving a cart, struck a small boy for some slight offense, whereupon Barney took the matter in hand and chastised O'Brien severely. The matter will probably result in a prosecution for assault and battery.

Taken Over.—Mr. John McKearge, Sheriff of Blair county, arrived in the city from Hollidaysburg, having in charge three prisoners recently convicted of larceny in that county and sentenced to the Penitentiary one of them for a term of two years and the others for one year each. They were taken over and delivered to the Warden yesterday.

On a Rampage.—John Parezo, an Italian, residing on High street, who semi-occasionilly indulges in too much "ratsbane," and abuses his wife and family, was on the rampage yesterday, and in addition to abusing his family made an attack upon his household goods, smashing the stove, tables, chairs and what other furniture there was in the house. He was arrested and locked up for a hearing.

Slight Fire.—About half past four o'clock yesterday evening, an alarm of fire was sounded from box 25, corner of Grant street and Third avenue, the cause of which was a slight fire in the third story of Lafferty's Exchange, corner of First avenue and Grant street. It appears that one of the beds was on fire, and the burning portion was thrown out of the window. How it origininated was not ascertained.

Night Revelers.—Yesterday morning at an exceedingly early hour—one o'clock—the Allegheny police arrested a party of six young men who were driving along Ohio street, near East lane, in a carriage, and endeavoring to work off an overdose of stimulants by unearthly yells and similar vocal exercises. Yesterday morning each of the party was compelled to pay a fine of five dollars by Mayor Drum for their eccentricities.

Religious.—The many friends and former parishioners of the Rev. Isaac Aiken, formerly the beloved pastor of the North avenue M. E. Church, Allegheny, will be pleased to learn that by special request he will deliver a discourse in the First Methodist Church, (East Common) to-morrow evening. The reverend gentleman is a remarkably clear thinker and effective pulpit orator, and on this, as on former occasions, will doubtless attract a large and appreciative audience.

Decoration Day—Final Arrangements.

The final meeting of the Executive Committee G. A. R., to make arrangements for Decoration Day, was held at City Hall yesterday afternoon, General Pearson in the chair, W. B. Cook secretary.

Major Montooth read a communication from Postmaster McClelland, stating that the office would be closed from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

It was also stated that all business at the Arsenal would be suspended between the same hours, by order of Commander Whitely.

Major Montooth moved a vote of thanks be tendered Postmaster McClelland, Surveyor Steel, Commander Whitely and the Mayors of both cities for their endeavors to have the day observed by a general suspension of business. Carried.

A vote of thanks was also tendered Mr. Irwin, for a donation of six handsome flower racks, and to Messrs. H. and J. Murdoch for a quantity of evergreens furnished for decorating the graves.

Captain Cook stated that the ladies having in charge the floral arrangements, desired the flags designating the soldiers' graves to remain, as they had received a donation of verbenas and other flowering shrubs which they proposed to have planted on the graves during next week.

Major Denniston moved that the commanders of each division be instructed to see that all companies comprising their divisions were supplied with flowers. Officers of companies not supplied to report at Masonic Hall in time to be in line for the moving of the procession.

Mayor Denniston stated the officers of the Connellsville Railroad Company had agreed to transport the Orphans from Uniontown, on their regular trains, free of charge, but that it would be necessary to retain them on a special train from West Newton, for which excursion rates would be charged. On motion the Treasurer was notified to attend to this matter and pay for the special train from the funds in his hands.

Votes of thanks were tendered the officers of the Connellsville Railroad for their generous offer, and to Postmaster Myler, of Allegheny, for a suspension of business in his department from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

The Committee then adjourned to meet next Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock.

Decorate on Decoration Day.

Let our citizens to-day contribute all they possibly can towards rendering this day memorable. Let decorations be generously used in adorning our dwelling houses and places of business. Hang out flags with their bright folds draped in the emblem of sorrow from every window, and let all who pass by observe that the memory of those who died in the cause of their country is warmly cherished in the hearts of a grateful people. Many of our citizens have already made arrangements for decorations, and some houses have already been ornamented in a chaste and appropriate manner, and, doubtless the good example will be very generally followed to-day by all patriotic citizens. Flags draped in mourning and wreathed with flowers will form the prettiest decoration.

A Rare Feast.

Philip Phillips, the great composer and singer of sacred music, will give one of his grand concerts at the First Methodist Church, Fifth avenue, Rev. Alex. Clark, pastor, on Wednesday evening of next week. To those who have been so fortunate as to hear Mr. Phillips this will be welcome intelligence, and they will avail themselves of this opportunity of participating in the rare musical feast his concerts always afford. In this rendition of sacred or church music, Mr. Phillips has no superior, and his name alone is sufficient to fill the largest halls in any city where he is known. "Your Mission," a piece of his own composition, when sung by him, is one of the finest productions of the age. All lovers of good music should hear him.

Fatal Accident.

An accident occurred in Lower St. Clair township, near Bower's brewery yesterday, resulting in the death of Mrs. Boehm, a German woman, about forty-three years of age. It appears that the unfortunate woman had taken a basket and gone out to pick up some coal, and was walking along the incline from Keeling's coal works, when a loaded car, which was rapidly descending the incline, struck her on the head and threw her over an embankment. She was taken up by some workmen, who witnessed the accident, carried to a house near by and a physician sent for; but she was dead before he arrived, her neck having been broken by the fall.

Grand Concert.

The concert given by the pupils of the Franklin, Forbes, South, Oakland, and Moorhead Public Schools, under the direction of Prof. W. B. Slack, their musical instructor, was a complete success. In addition to the excellent music by the several classes, the Allegheny Quartette Club were present and favored the audience with several pieces. The instrumental music consisting of a piano, violin, and double bass viol, with Miss McCreary presiding at the piano, was most excellent. The audience was a large and select one, and all present were well pleased with the entertainment.

Bonded Warehouse Accident.

The Coroner's jury empannelled to investigate and inquire into the cause and after what manner George B. Cavin, who was killed by the falling of Finch & Co.'s bonded warehouse, in South Pittsburgh, the 14th inst., came to his death, met yesterday at two o'clock, pursuant to adjournment, at the office of Justice Barker, and concluded the investigation. Considerable testimony, in addition to that already published, was adduced, and written statements by Mr. Cuthbert, the contractor for the brick work of the building, and Mr. Howarth, who was employed to superintend the construction of the building, were presented. Mr. Cuthbert, after being duly sworn, read his statement to the jury. It sets forth that Mr. Kemble not only was present several times while the work on the foundations and piers was progressing, but that he examined it when completed and pronounced it good, and that Mr. K. never found fault with the manner in which the work was being done. After the paper was read, Justice Barker objected to its being received in evidence, and it was accordingly ruled out by the Coroner.

The statement of Mr. Howarth, the Superintendant of the work, fully corroborated that of Mr, Cuthbert, and it was also ruled out and not even allowed to be read before the jury. After an hour's deliberation, the jury agreed upon a verdict to the effect that deceased came to his death from the falling of the warehouuse; and further, that the building was not in accordance with the plans and specifications, and the material used was not good.

Upon what grounds or for what reasons the statements of Messrs. Haworth and Cuthbert were ruled out by the Coroner we cannot understand. The province of a Coroner's jury is not to try persons for crime, but to ascertain facts relating to the case under investigation, and their duty to take sll testimony relating thereto.

The only reasons given for excluding thes statements as stated, in the objections by Justice Barker, were that the parties making the statements had both been called and examined at a previous meeting of the jury, and should have made the statements at that time. Rather flimsy, to say the least.

Reception of Soldiers' Orphans.

Yesterday evening, at six o'clock, the soldiers' orphans, under charge of Rev. J. H. Watters, numbering one hundred and thirty children, reached the city, from Uniontown. The Committee from the Grand Army of the Republic met them at the depot, and escorted them through the city to the Citizens' Passenger Depot, on Penn street, where ample arrangements had been made by Mr. Verner, President of the road, to convey them to the Soldiers' Home in the Twelfth Ward. Upon reaching Twenty-eigth street the children alighted from the cars and formed a line, and headed by their drum corps, proceeded up the hill towards the "Home." On arriving at the grounds they were met by the Ladies' Committee, who had charge of the arrangements for furnishing them with supper. At a signal from the drum corps the boys and girls "broke ranks," and were soon scattered over the beautiful grounds, where they seemed to enjoy themselves hugely. Supper was announced, and upon another signal being given, they quickly formed in line and marched to supper. The tables were loaded with all the delicacies of the season, and the ladies having the matter in charge may congratulate themselves upon the success attending their labors. After supper the children favored the company with a number of patriotic airs and chants.

There are thirty-six girls, and eighty-four boys all of whom are uniformed.

The teachers of the Institution are Rev. J. H. Waters, J. T. Brandford, Major Thomas, Miss Olivia Smith and Miss Olia Oliphant.

Great praise is due Dr. King and his estimable lady, and also to Major J. W. Heslop, for the ample arrangement made for the comfort of the children. The orphans will be conveyed into the city, this morning, at eight o'clock, and will take part in the proceedings of the day.

Supposed Highway Robbers Caged.

Our readers will remember the assault a few evenings since upon Mr. James P. Gregg, in which he was knocked senseless and robbed of a watch and chain, on Liberty street, Fourth ward, Allegheny. The assailants escaped at the time, but suspicion rested upon certain parties, one of whom was arrested at a pic nic on Troy Hill, Thursday afternoon. He gave his name as David Grounds, and at first denied all knowledge of the affair, but yesterday morning offered to accompany an officer to get the watch. Previous to starting on this mission, however, the article was brough to the Mayor's office by the party in whose possession it had fallen. Further investigations resulted in the arrest of the two others, Montgomery Cuddy and Wm. Grounds, on suspicion of being the principals in the affair. A hearing was had in the case last evening, when David Grounds was discharged and the remaining two held for trial.

Officers Shaffer and Gebby, who managed the arrest, deserve especial credit for the viligance and shrewdness in conducting the affair throughout.

A Model House.

With pleasure we join in the general sentiment of commendation with which the establishment of Mr. W. W. Moorhead, No. 81 Market street, is everywhere spoken of. Mr. Moorhead makes a specialty of his business, which is the great reason of his remarkable success. Everything from a paper of pins to a superb India shawl, including lace goods, fine dress goods, trimmings, &c., all styles, may be found in his model storeroom, none of which is of inferior quality or sold at unreasonable prices. Lately a new and carefully selected assortment has been added to the already large stock of goods, and we would advise our readers desiring the first choice to make their purchases as soon as possible, and before the rush begins.

Choice Reading Matter.

School, law, medical, philosophical and theological books in great variety and assortment may be found at Col. J. D. Egan's, Sixth avenue, below Smithfield street. The Colonel also has a rare and valuable collection of works in various departments of literature, many of which are out of print and can be procured nowhere else in the city. All the latest periodicals, magazines, &c., will also be found on his counters. The traveller, the merchant, the divine, the student, the politician, and man of general letters, may be suited at this establishment. Remember the place, Sixth avenue, below Smithfield street.

The Family Favorite.

No machine for family sewing has achieved in late days a wider reputation or greater fame than that for which our courteous and obliging friend, Mr. James Espy, is agent in this city, at No. 12 Fifth avenue, entrance one door below Market street. The American Button, Overseaming and General Family Sewing Machine, to which we refer, is, as its name indicates, a marvel of combination, being capable of well and faithfully executing all descriptions of sewing which have hitherto belonged to hand-labor alone. Its simplicity of construction, wide field of work, durability, noiseless operations and easy working commend the machine in high terms to the public. It not only perfects in capital manner all ordinary family sewing, but likewise overseams, works button holes, embroiders and does everything the hand can possibly do, and does it much better. It will stitch, fell, hem, tuck, cord, braid, quilt, gather, and sew on, overseam, embroider on the edge and do splendid button hole and eyelet work. Mr. Espy has sold a great number of these machines during the past month, and orders for them are pouring in from all directions. No other machine is half so popular, and none can more amply meet the requirements of the family sewing room. These machines are sold at reasonable prices, and before purchasing any other we advise our readers to call at the elegant salesrooms of Mr. Espy and examine them.

A Life Insurance Policy

Is an obligation to be paid to your wife and children when you are not here to see that they are not defrauded of their inheritance. You cannot, therefore, be too cautious with whom you make your contract. It seems like utter recklessness to entrust so important a matter to entire strangers in a distant city, of whom you can know positively nothing, except through their own representations and those of their hired agents, who have no possible interest in the case except the "40 per cent. commission, and 10 per cent. on renewals." If the agent happens to be a particular friend, it may be better to give him, as a present, the "commission" he would make, and not take the policy. We know several parties who are sorry they did not take this course. But do not let this prevent your insuring in some good company that will make a PLAIN CONTRACT, with no quibbles in it, by which your heirs can be finally defrauded of what you thought was secure.

Our home Company, the "Co-operative," 128 Smithfield street, with apparent good reason, claims to have the FAIREST, CHEAPEST, SAFEST system of Life Insurance yet devised, and to make the plainest and simplest contract, which every one can fully understand, and we know that its Directory comprises some of the most thorough and reliable business men of the city. It keeps its funds at home and lends them to its patrons. Examine its plans before you insure.

A Luxury.

A good cigar, in the present age, with a great majority of persons, has become one of the necessary luxuries of existence, a fact which accounts for the large and rapidly increasing trade in tobacco. Among those in our city who cater to this public taste, Mr. John Megraw, No. 45 Hand street, will be found to keep constantly on hand the best articles and one of the largest supplies in store anywhere. Some of his brands of cigars have achieved a wide celebrity among lovers of the weed, not only in this, but in other sections of the country. Those of our readers desiring anything in the line of cigars, tobacco, snuff, pipes, pouches, meerschaums, &c., &c., would consult their own interests by making their purchases at No. 45 Hand street.

"She Would be Pretty

If she hadn't such a miserable looking set of teeth; but that spoils it all." Yes; a pretty face loses all its charms when marred by decayed and neglected teeth; and, besides, the mouth is, to a great extent, an index to character and habit. Then, first of all, take care of and preserve the teeth that Nature gave you, if possible; if that is impossible, then get a set of those beautiful teeth made by Dr. Gillespie, which serve all the purposes of teeth, besides allowing you to enjoy a good broad laugh without danger of shocking the sensibilities of the beholder. His prices are very low and his work warranted. Office, No. 246 Penn street.

Arranging the Table.

There is scarcely anything more attractive than neatness and order in the arrangement of the household table. To secure this great desideratum, however, in domestic economy, there are a few things necessary, the most important of which is the possession of a choice and properly selected stock of queensware. Superiority in other respects will not atone for defects in this. Happily now, however, there need be no deficiency in these articles, as the manufactures at the Keystone Pottery, Messrs. Kier & Co., proprietors, while combining all the excellencies of quality, style, durability and finish, are yet sold at such moderate prices, no one need be without a supply. At the warehouse, No. 363 Liberty street, a large and varied assortment of goods is kept constantly on hand for inspection and sale.

The Continental.

The Continental Saloon, Fifth avenue, next door below the Postoffice, is kept open during the day and evening for the accommodation of all who desire a properly prepared and substantial meal at any hour. The table is daily supplied with the best in the market, and managed with such commendable neatness and cleanliness that the appetite of the most satiated epicure could not resist the attraction presented. Mr. Holtzheimer, the gentlemanly proprietor, understands thoroughly his business, and conducts it with a tact and ability which has secured for the establishment the high reputation which it at present enjoys.

Grand Tournament and Festival.

We learn that the Knights of the White Cross, an association of colored men of this city, propose holding a grand Tournament at Union Park, Allegheny City, Thursday, June 3d, and a Festival at Lafayette Hall in the evening. The principal features at the Festival will be the Crowning of the "Queen of Love and Beauty" and three Maids of Honor, the presentation of a gold-headed cane to the Mayor receiving the highest number of votes, and a gold watch to the most popular head waiter in the city, the competitors for which are Adam Watkins, George Ware and James Smith. The Association referred to is composed of the most respectable colored men in the two cities, and the affair will be conducted in grand style. 2

It is Seldom that we use the columns of this paper to "puff" or notice the "thousand and one" articles known as "Patent Medicines." We, however, vary from our rule in the present case, that we may call attention to the article known as "S. T.—1860—X., Plantation Bitters." We desire it understood that we do so without any solicitation or promise of benefit from the proprietor or other interested parties, We simply do it as an act of duty towards those who are laboring under physical disabilities, weakness, and the various complaints arising from impurities of the blood. Having used the Bitters at the instigation of a friend, (and. we confess, with some misgivings at the out set.) we found them a most valuable medical compound, and to our great satisfaction, accomplished the object for which they were used.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. TH.S.T.F.

A. M. 1864, S. 2.—In the above year Seward & Bentley, Druggists, of Buffalo, N. Y., having observed the great demand for a good medical Bitter, and being satisfied that most, if not all the Bitters sold were not such as could be consciencously reccommended by the Physicians and Druggist, determined to prepare such an article so much needed by the debilitated. Selecting such roots, barks and herbs as were known by the Profession to be really good, and combining them in a proper form, using only pure Rye Whisky for what spirits required, made the Bitters now celebrated as the Constitution Bitters. They are now being sold in all parts of the country, and are deserving the success they have every where attained.
